

Senate Resolution 560

By: Senators Unterman of the 45th, Burke of the 11th, Hufstetler of the 52nd, Millar of the 40th and Shafer of the 48th

A RESOLUTION

- 1 Creating the Senate Women's Adequate Healthcare Study Committee; and for other purposes.
- 2 WHEREAS, Georgia historically ranks 49th or 50th in maternal mortality, mothers who die 3 during pregnancy and childbirth, and 45th in delivery of low birth weight babies; and
- 4 WHEREAS, Georgia ranks fourth highest in the nation in repeat teenage pregnancies; and
- 5 WHEREAS, other concerning Georgia statistics include that 45 percent of births are to 6 unwed mothers, and 7 percent of births have no prenatal care; and
- 7 WHEREAS, Georgia has approximately 130,000 births per year, and 60 percent of births 8 annually are covered by Medicaid; and
- 9 WHEREAS, women who receive pregnancy Medicaid become uninsured six to eight weeks 10 after delivery of the pregnancy, leaving them uninsured until onset of the next pregnancy; 11 and
- 12 WHEREAS, more than 40 counties in Georgia have no obstetrical care provider and 31 13 hospital obstetrical delivery units have closed, leaving large gaps in access to obstetrical care;
14 and
- 15 WHEREAS, Georgia ranks highest in the nation in cases of syphilis and sixth highest in 16 cases of congenital syphilis transference to newborns who can experience serious 17 consequences including death; and
- 18 WHEREAS, in Georgia women who drive more than 45 minutes to the hospital are 1.5 times 19 more likely to deliver preterm at-risk newborns; and

20 WHEREAS, there are only five obstetrics and gynecology residency training programs in 21 Georgia, which do not produce enough new obstetricians and gynecologist to adequately care 22 for Georgia's women, and moreover, due to the current practice climate in this state, many 23 newly graduated OB/GYNs leave Georgia to establish their practices; and

24 WHEREAS, the inadequate number of OB/GYNs in this state is exacerbated by the lack of 25 adequate funding and training slots to meet the demand for these physicians in this state; and

26 WHEREAS, Georgia is one of the largest states east of the Mississippi River and has vast 27 rural areas lacking in adequate healthcare for women.

28 WHEREAS, it would be beneficial for the General Assembly to study the current condition
29 of women's healthcare in Georgia and, in the face of the current women's adequate health 30 care crisis and the growing population currently at risk of inadequate health care, the current 31 areas with existing deficits and the insidious spread of those areas with no obstetrical care.
