Sec. 6. Minnesota Statutes 2014, section 177.27, subdivision 8, is amended to read:

Subd. 8. Court actions; suits brought by private parties. An employee may bring a civil action seeking redress for a violation or violations of sections 177.21 to 177.44 directly to district court. An employer who pays an employee less than the wages and overtime compensation to which the employee is entitled under sections 177.21 to 177.44 is liable to the employee for the full amount of the wages, gratuities, and overtime compensation, less any amount the employer is able to establish was actually paid to the employee and for an additional equal amount as liquidated damages equal to twice the unpaid wages, overtime pay, and gratuities. In addition, in an action under this subdivision the employee may seek damages and other appropriate relief provided by subdivision 7 and otherwise provided by law. An agreement between the employee and the employer to work for less than the applicable wage is not a defense to the action.

Sec. 7. Minnesota Statutes 2014, section 177.27, subdivision 9, is amended to read:

Subd. 9. District court jurisdiction. Any action brought under subdivision 8 may be filed in the district court of the county wherein a violation or violations of sections 177.21 to 177.44 are alleged to have been committed, where the respondent resides or has a principal place of business, or any other court of competent jurisdiction. The action may be brought by one or more employees. An employee may choose to have a person or organization bring an action on the employee's behalf. In such a case, the person or organization has the power to settle or adjust the claim.

Sec. 8. Minnesota Statutes 2014, section 177.27, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:

- Subd. 11. Employee complaints. (a) Any person or organization may file an administrative complaint or an informal complaint with the department claiming an employer has violated sections 177.21 to 177.44 as to any employee or person.
- (b) The commissioner shall allow for anonymous informal and administrative complaints. The commissioner shall take steps to keep the identity of a complaining employee or other individual confidential if that employee or individual so chooses.

- (d) Any information regarding a complaint under this subdivision is excluded from any requirements for disclosure under the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act.
- Sec. 9. Minnesota Statutes 2014, section 177.27, is amended by adding a subdivision to read:
- Subd. 12. Wage bonds. (a) If, upon investigation by the commissioner of any complaint under sections 177.21 to 177.44, the commissioner finds that an employer is not paying wages due its employees, the commissioner may require the employer to give the department a bond, with sufficient surety, in an amount that the commissioner deems reasonable and adequate under the circumstances. Forfeiture of the bond may be conditioned on the employer continuing to conduct its business and paying its employees in accordance with all laws for a definite period not to exceed six months.
- (b) If, within ten days after the commissioner demands such a bond, the employer fails to provide it, the commissioner may bring an action against the employer, in any court of competent jurisdiction, to compel the employer to provide the bond or to cease conducting business until the employer has done so. The employer shall have the burden of proving the amount of the bond to be excessive.

Sec. 10. [177.311] GRANTS TO COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS.

The commissioner must make grants to community organizations for the purpose of outreach to and education for employees affected by sections 177.21 to 177.44 regarding employee rights under those sections. The community-based organizations must be selected based on their experience, capacity, and relationships in high-violation industries. The work under any such grant may include the creation and administration of a statewide worker hotline.

Sec. 11. [177.315] EMPLOYER RETALIATION.

No employer shall discharge or take any other adverse action against any person in retaliation for asserting any claim or right under sections 177.21 to 177.44, for assisting any other person in doing so, or for informing any person about the person's rights under sections 177.21 to 177.44. An employer taking any adverse action against a person within one year of a person's engaging in the foregoing activities shall raise a presumption that such action was retaliation, which may be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence that the action was taken for other permissible reasons.

A person or entity shall not enter into a contract or agreement for labor or services where the person or entity knows or should know that the contract or agreement does not include funds sufficient to allow the contractor to comply with all applicable local, state, and federal laws or regulations governing the labor or services to be provided.

- Subd. 2. Rebuttable presumption. There is a rebuttable presumption affecting the burden of proof that there has been no violation of subdivision 1 where the contract or agreement with a contractor meets all of the requirements in subdivision 4.
- Subd. 3. Exclusions. Subdivision 1 does not apply to a person or entity who executes a collective bargaining agreement covering the workers employed under the contract or agreement, or to a person who enters into a contract or agreement for labor or services to be performed on the person's home residence, provided that a family member resides in the residence or residences for which the labor or services are to be performed for at least part of the year.
- Subd. 4. Written contract; provisions. To meet the requirements of subdivision 2, a contract or agreement with a contractor for labor or services shall be in writing, in a single document, and contain all of the following provisions, in addition to any other provisions that may be required by the commissioner:

8.19	subdivision 4. If an estimate is used in place of actual figures, the parties to the contract or
8.20	agreement have a continuing duty to ascertain the information required under subdivision
8.21	4, clause (7) or (9), and to reduce that information to writing according to the requirements
8.22	of paragraph (a) once that information becomes known.
8.23	Subd. 6. Written contract; commissioner review. A person or entity who enters

This penalty is in addition to any penalties provided under section 177.32, subdivision 1. In determining the amount of a civil penalty under this subdivision, the appropriateness of such penalty to the size of the employer's business and the gravity of the violation shall be considered.

The department shall serve the order upon the employer or the employer's authorized representative in person or by certified mail at the employer's place of business. An employer who wishes to contest the order must file written notice of objection to the order with the commissioner within 15 calendar days after being served with the order. 29.5 ARTICLE 5

29.6 FAIR SCHEDULING

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 2014, section 177.27, subdivision 4, is amended to read: Subd. 4. Compliance orders. The commissioner may issue an order requiring an employer to comply with sections 177.21 to 177.435, 181.02, 181.03, 181.031, 181.032, 181.101, 181.11, 181.12, 181.13, 181.14, 181.145, 181.15, 181.172, paragraph (a) or (d), 181.275, subdivision 2a, 181.722, 181.79, and 181.939 to 181.943, or and 181.99, and with any rule promulgated under section 177.28. The commissioner shall issue an order requiring an employer to comply with sections 177.41 to 177.435 if the violation is repeated. For purposes of this subdivision only, a violation is repeated if at any time during the two years that preceded the date of violation, the commissioner issued an order to the employer for violation of sections 177.41 to 177.435 and the order is final or the commissioner and the employer have entered into a settlement agreement that required the employer to pay back wages that were required by sections 177.41 to 177.435. The department shall serve the order upon the employer or the employer's authorized representative in person or by certified mail at the employer's place of business. An employer who wishes to contest the order must file written notice of objection to the order with the commissioner within 15 calendar days after being served with the order. A contested case proceeding must then be held in accordance with sections 14.57 to 14.69. If, within 15 calendar days after being served with the order, the employer fails to file a written notice of objection with the commissioner, the order becomes a final order of the commissioner.

- (e) "Flexible working arrangement" means a change in an employee's terms and conditions of employment with respect to work schedule, including, but not limited to, a modified work schedule, changes in start or end times in a work schedule or work shift, a predictable, stable work schedule, part-time employment, job sharing arrangements, working from home, telecommuting, limitations on the employee's availability to work, the location of the employee's worksite, reduction or change in work duties, or part-year employment.
- (f) "On-call shift" or "on-call hours" mean time that an employer requires an employee to be available to work, and to contact the employer or its designee or wait to be contacted by the employer or its designee to determine whether the employee must report to work at that time.
- (g) "Predictability pay" means payments to an employee, calculated on an hourly basis at the employee's regular rate of pay, for applicable schedule changes pursuant to subdivision 4. An employer must pay an employee predictability pay, when required by this section, in addition to any wages earned for work performed by the employee. An employer must pay predictability pay to an employee in the same pay period in which it was incurred by the employer.
- (h) "Shift" means the consecutive hours an employer requires an employee to work or to be on call to work. Breaks totalling two hours or less shall not be considered an interruption of consecutive hours.
 - (i) "Work week" means a fixed, consecutive seven-day period.
- 30.24 (j) "Work schedule" means all of an employee's regular and on-call shifts during 30.25 a work week.
 - Subd. 2. Advance notice of work schedules. (a) An employer must give each employee the employee's individual initial work schedule, in writing, at least 21 days before the first day of that work schedule. An employer must contact each employee to notify the employee of any change in the employee's work schedule before the change takes effect and must provide the employee with a revised written work schedule reflecting any changes within 24 hours of making the change.
 - (b) On or before the beginning of an employee's employment, the employer must provide the employee with a written work schedule for the employee's first 21 days of employment.
 - (c) An employer may not require an employee to work hours not included in the employee's initial written work schedule without consent in writing by the employee.

31.1	(d) An employer must post a written schedule that includes the shifts of all current
31.2	employees at a worksite at least 21 days before the start of each work week, whether or
31.3	not they are scheduled to work or be on call that week. The employer must update that
31.4	posted schedule within 24 hours of any change. The written schedule must be posted in a
31.5	place that is readily accessible and visible to all employees at a worksite.
31.6	(e) An employee's work week must begin on the same day of the week each week,
31.7	unless the employer provides 21 days advance written notice of a change in the start day
31.8	of the work week.
31.9	(f) An employee has the right to request a change in work schedule, request to
31.10	limit his or her availability to work particular hours, or otherwise provide input into the
31.11	employee's work schedule.
31.12	(g) An employer must not require an employee to seek or find a replacement
31.13	employee for any shifts or hours an employee is unable to work.
31.14	Subd. 3. Flexible working arrangements. (a) An employee has a right to request a
31.15	flexible working arrangement at any time. Such a request must be in writing.
31.16	(b) An employer must consider an employee's request for a flexible working
31.17	arrangement in good faith and engage in an interactive process with the employee to
31.18	consider the request and determine whether the request can be granted in a manner
31.19	consistent with the employer's business operations or legal or contractual obligations.
31.20	The employer must begin this interactive process within two days of receiving the
31.21	request. If information provided by the employee making a request for a flexible working
31.22	arrangement requires clarification, the employer must explain what further information is
31.23	needed and give the employee reasonable time to produce the information.
31.24	(c) After engaging in the interactive process, an employer must notify the employee
31.25	of its decision regarding a flexible working arrangement, in writing, within two days of its
31.26	last communication with the employee during the interactive process.
31.27	(d) If an employee requests a flexible working arrangement because of a serious health
31.28	condition of the employee, the employee's responsibilities as a caregiver, or the employee's
31.29	enrollment in a career-related educational or training program, or if a part-time employee
31.30	makes the request for a reason related to a second job, the employer must grant the request.
31.31	Subd. 4. Predictability pay required. (a) Within 21 days of, but not less than 24
31.32	hours from, the start of an employee's shift, an employer may do any of the following
31.33	provided the employer pays the affected employee one hour of predictability pay in
31.34	addition to wages earned for each changed shift, if any:
31.35	(1) subtract hours from a shift;
31.36	(2) add hours to a shift or add a shift;

32.1	(3) cancel a shift; or
32.2	(4) change the start or end time of a shift.
32.3	(b) Within 24 hours of the start of an employee's shift, an employer may do either of
32.4	the following provided the employer pays the affected employee one hour of predictability
32.5	pay in addition to wages earned for each changed shift:
32.6	(1) change the start or end time of a shift without changing the total number of
32.7	hours in the shift; or
32.8	(2) add hours to a shift.
32.9	(c) Whenever an employee is scheduled to work a shift, and the employer cancels
32.10	the shift or reduces the hours in the shift with less than 24 hours notice, the employer must
32.11	pay the employee the lesser of four hours of predictability pay or predictability pay equal
32.12	to the number of hours originally scheduled for the shift.
32.13	(d) An employer is not required to pay an employee any predictability pay under this
32.14	subdivision when a schedule change is the result of the employee's request, including,
32.15	but not limited to, a request to trade shifts with another employee, to use sick leave,
32.16	vacation time, or any other type of leave.
32.17	(e) An employer is not required to pay an employee any predictability pay under
32.18	this subdivision when a schedule change is the result of mutually agreed upon shift trade
32.19	among employees.
32.20	Subd. 5. Exception for suspended operations. The requirements of subdivisions 2
32.21	to 4 do not apply to an employer when that employer's operations are suspended:
32.22	(1) due to threats to employees or property;
32.23	(2) when civil authorities have recommended that work not begin or continue;
32.24	(3) due to failure of public utilities or sewer systems or because public utilities
32.25	fail to supply electricity, water, or gas; or
32.26	(4) due to a natural disaster or weather event.
32.27	Subd. 6. Right to rest. An employee has the right to decline work hours that occur
32.28	(1) less than 11 hours after the end of the previous shift, or (2) during the 11 hours
32.29	following the end of a shift that spanned two days. An employer must pay an employee
32.30	1-1/2 times the employee's regular rate of pay for any such hours worked.
32.31	Subd. 7. No discrimination based on hours of work. (a) An employer must not
32.32	pay a different regular rate of pay based on the number of hours an employee is scheduled
32.33	to work to employees whose jobs require equal skill, effort, and duties, and that are
32.34	performed under similar working conditions. An employer may pay different hourly
32.35	wages based on other reasons, such as seniority systems, merit, employee responsibilities,
32 36	or systems that measure earnings by quantity or quality of production

02/18/15	REVISOR	SS/PT	15-2846

33.1	(b) An employer must not condition eligibility for leave or time off based on the
33.2	number of hours an employee is scheduled to work for employees whose jobs require
33.3	equal skill, effort, and duties, and that are performed under similar working conditions.
33.4	An employer may prorate employee leave or time off based on the number of hours the
33.5	employee works.
33.6	(c) An employer must not condition eligibility for raises or promotions based on
33.7	the number of hours an employee is scheduled to work for employees whose jobs require
33.8	equal skill, effort, and duties, and that are performed under similar working conditions.
33.9	Employers may condition eligibility for raises on other reasons, such as seniority systems
33.10	merit, employee responsibilities, or the nature and amount of an employee's work
33.11	experience.
33.12	Subd. 8. Access to hours. If an employer has additional hours of work available
33.13	in positions held by current employees, the employer must offer those hours to current
33.14	qualified employees before hiring new employees or contractors, including the use of
33.15	temporary services or staffing agencies.
33.16	Subd. 9. Record keeping requirements. (a) An employer must keep an accurate
33.17	record of:
33.18	(1) the name, address, and occupation of each employee;
33.19	(2) the amount paid each pay period to each employee;
33.20	(3) the hours worked each day and each week by each employee; and
33.21	(4) each employee's initial work schedule and all subsequent revisions to that work
33.22	schedule.
33.23	(b) An employer must keep the records required by this subdivision for at least two
33.24	years after the entry date of the record. The records must be maintained at the place of
33.25	employment, at an office of the employer, or with a bank, accountant, or other central
33.26	location, and must be open to inspection and available upon request by the commissioner.
33.27	(c) An employer must allow an employee to inspect records required by this
33.28	subdivision and relating to that employee at a reasonable time and place.
33.29	(d) The commissioner may impose a civil penalty of up to $1,000 on an employer
33.30	for each failure to keep, furnish, or allow inspection of records under this subdivision.
33.31	Subd. 10. Employer retaliation. No employer shall discharge or take any other
33.32	adverse action against any person in retaliation for asserting any claim or right under this
33.33	section, for assisting any other person in doing so, or for informing any person about their
33.34	rights under this section. An employer taking any adverse action against a person within
33.35	one year of a person's engaging in the foregoing activities shall raise a presumption that such action was retaliation, which may be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence that such action was taken for other permissible reasons.

Subd. 11. Individual remedies. In addition to any other remedies available in law or equity, an employee may bring a civil action seeking redress for a violation or violations of this section directly to any court of competent jurisdiction. An employee may recover any and all damages recoverable at law plus an additional amount equal to twice those damages, together with costs and disbursements including reasonable attorney fees, and may receive injunctive and other equitable relief as determined by a court.

Subd. 12. Encouragement of more generous policies. (a) Nothing in this section shall be construed to discourage employers from adopting or retaining policies that meet or exceed, and do not otherwise conflict with, the minimum standards and requirements provided in this section.

(b) This section does not apply to employees covered under a collective bargaining agreement with an employer.
