Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

- 1 Existing law sets forth certain unlawful acts that constitute domestic violence 2 when committed against certain persons and authorizes a court to issue a temporary

3 or extended order for protection against domestic violence. (NRS 33.018, 33.020, 4 33.030) Existing law also defines certain unlawful acts that constitute stalking, 5 aggravated stalking or harassment when committed against certain persons and 6 authorizes a court to issue a temporary or extended order for protection against 7 stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment. (NRS 200.571, 200.575, 200.591)

8 Existing law requires a law enforcement agency to personally serve the adverse 9 party with a temporary order for protection against domestic violence. (NRS 10 33.060) Existing law also requires that a temporary or extended order for protection 11 against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment be personally served on the 12 person to whom it is directed. (NRS 200.591) Sections 1 and 12 of this bill require 13 service of process of temporary orders for protection against domestic violence and 14 orders for protection against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment, 15 respectively, to take priority over other types of service, unless otherwise required 16 by law.

17 Existing law also provides that, under certain circumstances, temporary orders 18 for protection against domestic violence and temporary orders for protection 19 against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment expire after 30 days. (NRS 20 33.080, 200.594) Sections 2 and 13 of this bill provide that such temporary orders
21 for protection against domestic violence and orders for protection against stalking, 22 aggravated stalking or harassment, respectively, expire after 45 days.

23 Existing law also provides that an extended order for protection against 24 domestic violence and an extended order for protection against stalking, aggravated
25 stalking or harassment expire after not more than 1 year. (NRS 33.080, 200.594)
26 Sections 2 and 13 of this bill provide that such extended orders for protection 27 expire after not more than 5 years.

28 Under existing law, a person is guilty of a misdemeanor for intentionally 29 violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence.
30 (NRS 33.100) Section 4 of this bill increases the penalty for intentionally violating 31 such an extended order to: (1) a gross misdemeanor if the person has not previously 32 violated such an order; or (2) a category D felony if the person has previously 33 violated such an order. Sections 6 and 7 of this bill make conforming changes.

34 Existing law requires the Repository for Information Concerning Orders for 35 Protection Against Domestic Violence to contain records within the Central 36 Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History of temporary and extended 37 orders for protection against domestic violence and certain other information. (NRS 38 179A.350) Section 8 of this bill changes the name of the Repository for 39 Information Concerning Orders for Protection Against Domestic Violence to the 40 Repository for Information Concerning Orders for Protection. Section 8 also 41 requires the Repository for Information Concerning Orders for Protection to 42 maintain records within the Central Repository of all temporary and extended 43 orders for protection against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment. Section 44 10 of this bill requires certain persons to transmit such orders to the Central 45 Repository for transfer to the Repository for Information Concerning Orders for 46 Protection.

47 Existing law authorizes a court to admit evidence of character in certain limited 48 situations and provides that such evidence is admissible by testimony as to the 49 reputation or in the form of an opinion. (NRS 48.045, 48.055) Section 11 of this 50 bill prohibits the introduction of testimony as to the reputation or an opinion related 51 to the past sexual conduct of a petitioner for an order for protection against stalking, 52 aggravated stalking or harassment. Section 11 further provides that specific 53 instances of the past sexual conduct of the petitioner may be admissible under 54 limited circumstances.

7 including, without limitation, any provisions in the order related to 8 custody and support, is valid and must be accorded full faith and 9 credit and enforced by the courts of this state as if it were issued by 10 a court in this state, regardless of whether the order has been 11 registered in this state, if the court in this state determines that:

12 (a) The issuing court had jurisdiction over the parties and the 13 subject matter under the laws of the State, territory or Indian tribe in 14 which the order was issued; and

15 (b) The adverse party was given reasonable notice and an 16 opportunity to be heard before the order was issued or, in the case of 25 the adverse party; or

26 (b) A counter or cross-petition or other pleading was filed and

28 both parties,

29 ↪ the court shall refuse to enforce the order against the applicant
30 and may determine whether to issue its own temporary or extended 31 order.

32 3. A law enforcement officer shall enforce an order for 33 protection against domestic violence issued by the court of another
34 state, territory or Indian tribe and shall make an arrest for a violation 35 thereof in the same manner that a law enforcement officer would 36 make an arrest for a violation of a temporary or extended order 37 issued by a court of this state unless it is apparent to the officer that 38 the order is not authentic on its face. An officer shall determine that 39 an order is authentic on its face if the order contains:

40 (a) The names of the parties;

41 (b) Information indicating that the order has not expired; and

42 (c) Information indicating that the court which issued the order
43 had legal authority to issue the order as evidenced by a certified

6 violence issued by the court of another state, territory or Indian tribe
7 or arresting a person for a violation of such an order, a law

15 (c) Oral or written confirmation from a law enforcement agency 16 or court in the jurisdiction in which the order for protection against 17 domestic violence was issued that the order is valid and effective; or

18 (d) An examination of the totality of the circumstances
19 concerning the existence of a valid and effective order for protection 20 against domestic violence, including, without limitation, the 21 statement of a person protected by the order that the order remains 22 in effect.

23 5. The fact that an order has not been registered or included in 24 the Repository for Information Concerning Orders for Protection
25 ~~[Against Domestic Violence]~~ in the Central Repository for Nevada 26 Records of Criminal History pursuant to NRS 33.095 or in any

29 it is apparent to the officer that the order is not authentic on its face.

30 6. A court or law enforcement officer who enforces an order 31 for protection against domestic violence issued by the court of 32 another state, territory or Indian tribe based upon a reasonable belief

10 violation thereof in the same manner that a law enforcement officer
11 would make an arrest for a violation of a temporary or extended 12 order issued by a court of this State unless it is apparent to the 13 officer that the order is not authentic on its face. An officer shall 14 determine that an order is authentic on its face if the order contains:

15 (a) The names of the parties;

16 (b) Information indicating that the order has not expired; and

44 information database is not grounds for a law enforcement officer to

1 refuse to enforce the terms of the order unless it is apparent to the 2 officer that the order is not authentic on its face.

3 4. If a law enforcement officer determines that an otherwise
4 valid Canadian domestic-violence protection order cannot be

6 served with the order, the officer shall notify the protected person
7 that the officer will make reasonable efforts to contact the adverse
