A BILL

To amend title 18, United States Code, to protect more victims of domestic violence by preventing their abusers from possessing or receiving firearms, to amend the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 to establish a grant program relating to the removal of firearms from adjudicated domestic violence offenders, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Lori Jackson-Nicolette
3 Elias Domestic Violence Survivor Protection Act”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

5 Congress finds the following:

6 (1) Congress has the responsibility to keep the 7 populace of the United States safe, and domestic 8 gun violence is a significant threat to the well-being 9 of the United States.

10 (2) Each year in the United States, more than 11 600 women are shot to death by an intimate part-12 ner. More women are killed in the United States by 13 domestic partners than by any other type of assail-
14 ant, and most of these homicides are committed with 15 firearms.

16 (3) Approximately 4,500,000 women alive in 17 the United States today report having been threat-
18 ened with a gun by a domestic partner.

19 (4) More than half of intimate partner homi-
20 cides in the United States are committed with a fire-
21 arm. If a woman has an abusive male partner who 22 has access to a firearm, the woman is 5 times more
23 likely to be killed than she would be if the abusive 24 male partner did not have access to a firearm, and 25 domestic violence assaults involving a gun are 12
26 times more likely to result in death than domestic vi-

1 olence assaults involving other weapons or bodily
2 force.

3 (5) Perpetrators of intimate partner violence
4 are far more likely to commit additional acts of gun
5 violence. Nearly half of all mass shooters have com-
6 mitted acts of domestic violence.

7 (6) Victims of intimate partner violence often
8 pursue restraining orders as a means of protection
9 in the immediate aftermath of, or in conjunction 10 with, leaving dangerous partners and situations.
11 This time period is especially dangerous for victims.

12 (7) Although individuals against whom there is 13 a domestic violence restraining order are barred
14 from purchasing a firearm under section 922(g)(8)
15 of title 18, United States Code, various loopholes in 16 that section allow perpetrators to purchase and 17 maintain possession of firearms. For example, Fed-
18 eral law only protects domestic violence victims
19 against spouses, former spouses, cohabitants, former 20 cohabitants, and individuals with whom those vic-
21 tims have a child. Furthermore, under Federal law,
22 protective orders issued against domestic violence
23 abusers on an emergency or ex parte basis do not 24 prohibit those abusers from possessing or purchasing
25 firearms.

1 (8) Some States and local governments have
2 passed laws that go beyond the Federal baseline by 3 expanding the range of abusive partners included in 4 firearm restrictions to encompass abusive dating
5 partners. Numerous studies conducted between 2000
6 and 2017 have shown that States that pass these 7 laws experience a significant reduction in intimate 8 partner homicides.

9 (9) States that restrict access to guns to indi-
10 viduals subject to active domestic violence restrain-
11 ing orders have experienced a 13 percent reduction
12 in intimate partner homicides involving firearms.

13 (10) Congress has the power to set a national 14 standard to protect domestic violence victims who 15 seek restraining orders against abusive partners by 16 preventing those abusive partners from possessing or 17 purchasing firearms and ammunition while the re-
18 straining order is in effect.

19 SEC. 3. TITLE 18 AMENDMENTS.
